

Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting the Mercy Beyond Borders website. The following discloses our information gathering and dissemination practices for MercyBeyondBorders.org. Your privacy is of utmost importance to us.

Email Address Protection

Customer and web site visitor information is not sold or redistributed to any other companies or outside parties.

Our site makes use of various forms. By submitting your e-mail address to MercyBeyondBorders.org through a form, your e-mail address may be automatically added to our company e-list.

Your email address and other information is protected by Mercy Beyond Borders and will not be sold or redistributed to other third-party companies. We periodically send email notifications to our e-list about news, events and information about Mercy Beyond Borders.

Use of Cookies

Our website makes use of non-persistent anonymous session cookies to track anonymous aggregated statistics of the site. Such cookies are stored after you leave our website, and then deleted by your browser. Web site functions are not hindered if you have cookies turned off.

Links

We link to external sites on many pages throughout this website. Mercy Beyond Borders cannot be held responsible for the privacy practices or accuracy of the sites to which we link.

Thank you again for visiting our web site. Your privacy is of utmost priority to us. Please contact us if you have any additional privacy questions or concerns.
